Communion Instructions

I am inviting you to participate in virtual communion on Christmas Eve. Virtual communion will be very similar to in person communion. The same steps will be followed, the form of the prayers will be the same.

I believe communion is an important way to remind ourselves of Jesus Christ and the sacrifice that he made for us. It reminds us of our unity with other Christians around the world and connects us to saints of the past and future. More particularly it connects our congregation together as we eat the bread and drink the cup at the same time.

If you are uncomfortable with virtual communion, you do not have to participate. The session will be discussing communion at a future meeting and we may try to have communion as soon as it is safe to gather again.

If you can't participate online and would like communion, please call me at 275-4691. We will then schedule communion as soon as possible.

If you do want to participate, you will want to get the bread and grape juice or wine before communion so that you have them available during the Christmas Eve Service. Do not worry about getting any particular kind of bread. Just use whatever you have at your house.

I will give you instructions during the communion as to when you will eat the bread and drink from the cup.
